The McArthur Public Library is committed to fully supporting and participating in the Maine Public Library Information Commons Project BTOP Grant as proposed in the attached Executive Summary. Our library is committed to making access to the Internet available to all members of the general public.

Biddeford was one of the first cities in Maine to enjoy public library service. It was first housed in the Old City Hall in 1863. The McArthur Library opened in 1902 and serves a population of 22,000. The McArthur Library currently has partnerships with many local social service agencies for services and programs, including the Southern Maine Agency on Aging Elder Advocate Program, Operation Able 55+ Network, Head Start, UNE/Coastal Healthy Communities, the YMCA, and the Biddeford School Department. The library currently has 15 public computers with the Internet and Microsoft Office software; as well as free wireless access. The library has a large and growing collection of resources on job skills, job hunting, resume writing, and related career materials.

The library will work with the Maine State Library, Maine Infonet, the Maine regional Library system and the Area Reference and Resource Centers to accomplish the goals of the project.
