4. Please describe key economic and social successes of your project during the past year, and why you believe the project is successful thus far (600 words or less).                      The Generation ZD Digital Literacy Program has been successful to date: ZeroDivide has met all of the milestones for the project's Q1 and Q2 as laid out in our SBA baseline documentation. Also, we are on track to achieve our goals for Q3 and Q4 ahead. The seven subrecipients are beginning their BTOP-funded digital literacy training programming now (Q3) and we will see results of these programs in the coming quarters.                      ZeroDivide looks forward to providing detailed reporting on our project's activities and results over the coming months.
5. Please estimate the level of broadband adoption in the community(ies) and/or area(s) your project serves, explain your methodology for estimating the level of broadband adoption, and explain changes in the broadband adoption level, if any, since the project began.

5a. Adoption Level (%):	Narrative description of level, methodology, and change from the level at project inception (600 words or less).
20	This estimate is based on a recent study by Connected Nation that reported that subscription rates to broadband service remain stagnant among low-income and minority consumers due to such factors as lack of a household computer, lack of broadband training, high costs of service, and/or unreliable network facilities. In urban areas, broadband adoption and home subscribership amount minorities remains at 47%, and among low-income minorities at 20%, compared to 52% of non-minority residents. In rural areas, only 33% of minorities and 20% of low-income minorities subscribe to broadband, compared to 40% of non-minorities. The racial breakdown illustrates lower broadband adoption rates among all minorities, with Hispanics and African Americans reporting even significantly lower computer ownership rates. While young people drive technology adoption in these communities, disadvantaged and low-income youth often do not have access in their home environment. A Pew Internet &amp; American Life survey revealed that while teens have higher rates of internet use than adults, low-income and minority youth have lower use rates. The adoption level has not changed because the 7 subrecipients will not begin their BTOP-funded programming until the project's Q3, which is Q1, 2011.
6. Please describe the two most common barriers to broadband adoption that you have experienced this year in connection with your project. What steps did you take to address them (600 words or less)? N/A
7. To the extent that you have made any subcontracts or sub grants, please provide the number of subcontracts or sub grants that have been made to socially and economically disadvantaged small business (SDB) concerns as defined by section 8(a) of the Small Business Act, 15 U.S.C. 647, as modified by NTIA's adoption of an alternative small business size standard for use in BTOP. Please also provide the names of these SDB entities. (150 words or less) 0
8. Please describe any best practices / lessons learned that can be shared with other similar BTOP projects (900 words or less). We look forward to sharing many best practices and lessons learned in the coming months as our project unfolds.
